

A liveable and lovable district

The District of Gütersloh has a lot to offer! The 13 towns and municipalities in the District are as diversified and distinct as their 356,000 inhabitants.

Nature lovers are especially fond of the forests, fields and the Ems river. A cycling network of 1,000 km and countless hiking trails make sure you never feel bored. Or perhaps you prefer relaxing with a cup of chocolate in a farm café or visiting one of the numerous events such as the Gerry Weber Open or the Serengeti Festival.

The website www.erfolgskreis-gt.de provides all important information on your pilots and god-fathers as well as the dates for the regulars' table. Additionally, you can learn everything about business, recreation, family culture and honorary offices in the District of GT.

Gütersloh

In the heart of Germany and easy to reach – a statement that does not only apply to the data network: With a population of almost 100,000, Gütersloh, a business centre of global significance (Miele, Bertelsmann), is the capital of one of North Rhine-Westphalia's largest districts in terms of area. Gütersloh boasts an international ambience, with about 100 languages spoken and city partnerships with five European cities.

Urban life in the centre, village life in the vicinity: People who live in Gütersloh have access to both, just as they prefer. The city and its neighbourhoods are two elements of Gütersloh as a whole, serving both as a residence and as a hub for all who still value friendly relationships between neighbours.
